SUN FO DEMANDS RESISTANCE TO JAPANESE IN MANCHURIA

ARSON CHARGE LAID AGAINST COLONEL'S SON

Strange Case Called At Hayward's Heath.
TRIED TO BURN BARN.

London, To-day.
An extraordinary charge of attempted arson was preferred in Hayward's Heath Police Court against John Deperigault Mayhew, 25-year-old son of a Commoner, Lieut.-Colonel J. D. Mayhew. The accused, who is also the son-in-law of Viscount Falkland, has a baby son.
He was docked for allegedly attempting to fire a barn at his father's home at Burgess Hill, Sussex and was arrested last night as the outcome of police observation.
The prosecution stated the fires had been going on for some time and police would bring evidence as to what happened last night.
After the counsel for the accused had pleaded not guilty on his behalf, a remand was granted till September 30 and bail was granted at £50 on his own recognisances, while his father, smilingly stood surety for another £50. Father and son left the court together. — Reuter.

Havana, To-day.
Martial law has been proclaimed in the capital, in consequence of four more political murders, following that of Vazquez Bellos.
The victims include two Opposition members of the House of Representatives named Aguilar and Deandrade and two brothers of the latter.
Doctor Vasquez Bello, President of the Cuban Senate, was fatally wounded by an unidentified assailant as he left his home.
Doctor Bello fell to the ground and the assassin vanished. The wounded man was rushed to hospital when his servants had summoned a police ambulance, but the statesman died there shortly after being admitted.
He was one of Cuba's most distinguished diplomats.

SMUGGLERS ACTIVE IN SHANGHAI

Police Searching For Smuggled Gems.

Shanghai, To-day.
A minor sensation was caused here when authorities visited big jewellery stores on Nanjing Road and carefully scrutinized stocks and books, following the recent seizures by Customs Officers of a large quantity of gems allegedly smuggled into China. But nothing of an incriminating nature was discovered.
The Police are endeavouring to find out whether the smuggled jewels are being sold in the settlement, inasmuch as an international smuggling ring is believed to be operating in and around Shanghai.
The value of gems recently seized is said to run into many thousands.

Official Optimistic

Shanghai, To-day.
Director-General Fessenden of the Shanghai Municipal Council, just returned from a holiday in Hawaii, declared that in his opinion Shanghai is better off economically than most places of its size where the depression has been felt.
"Shanghai," he said, "is better off in many respects, and probably in no direction is it worse off than Honolulu and Japan. There are many more places much worse off than we are."
Mr. Fessenden did not refer to the unemployment situation, but it is understood that it is still serious.

CHINA SHOULD SEVER DIPLOMATIC BOND

ADOPTION OF DRASTIC
POLICY IS URGED

SIGNIFICANT ANNOUNCEMENT

(From Our Own Correspondent).

SHANGHAI, TO-DAY.
MR. SUN FO, BELIEVED TO BE ON HIS WAY TO NANKING TO ASSUME THE PRESIDENCY OF THE EXECUTIVE YUAN, HAS DECLARED HIMSELF AS FAVOURING THE DRASTIC FOREIGN POLICY RECOMMENDED BY MR. EUGENE CHEN. THIS POLICY CONSISTS OF SEVERANCE OF DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS WITH JAPAN, RESISTANCE OF A NATIONAL CHARACTER IN MANCHURIA, INSTEAD OF PASSIVITY, AND RESUMPTION OF DIPLOMATIC INTERCOURSE WITH SOVIET RUSSIA.

The immense significance of this statement, coming at this time, is not lost to European observers in Shanghai.

Mr. Sun Fo, they point out, has been invited to participate in the administering of China's affairs by Marshal Chiang Kai-shek. If the Marshal is a supporter of the policy of stubborn defensive tactics or attempted recapture of the lost northern territory, backed by Mr. Sun Fo he will be able to swing the sentiment of the entire country in the direction of war. If China sends an expedition against Manchukuo, it is believed, it will inevitably lead to a declaration and open hostilities.

The other angle of the situation, if China should resume relations with Russia, is not immediately apparent. Other than an understanding for economic reasons, the resumption of diplomatic intercourse could not accomplish much, it seems. But there are many who feel that China has leaders whose hopes are pinned on friendship with the Soviet and who desire, more than anything else, that this power ally herself with them in a war against Japan.
There is no doubt, commentators say, that China is swinging more and more towards a policy of serious resistance in the north.

Reliable Sources.

A DELICATE SITUATION.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Canton, To-day.

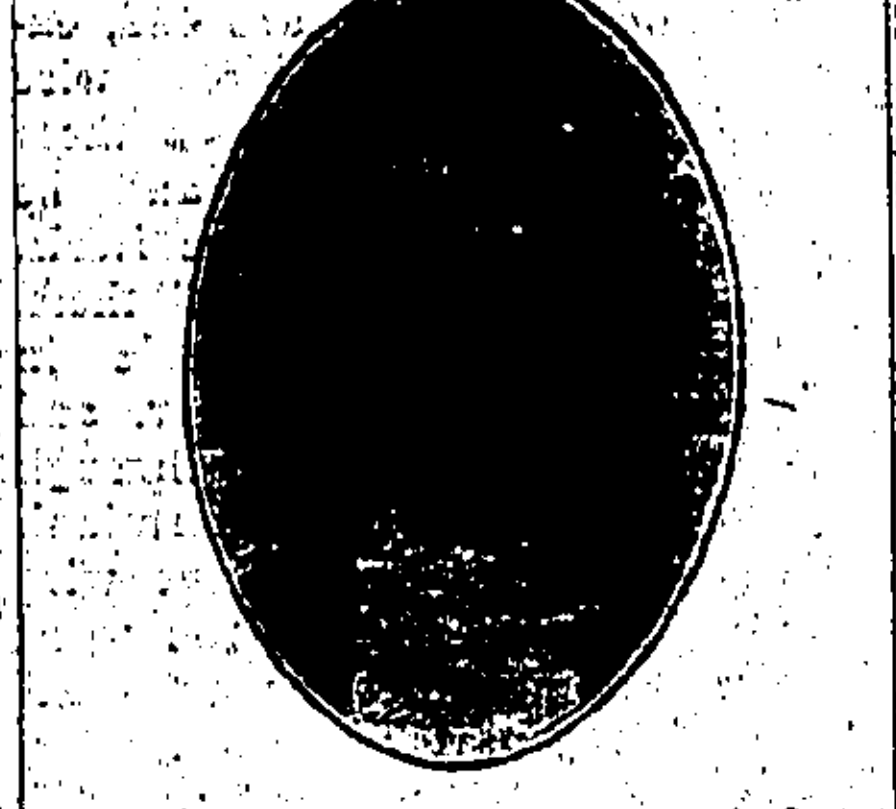

The reorganisation of the Government of Fukien Province is proceeding with rapid strides towards completion, and the newly-appointed officials are expected to take up their posts early next month. General Chiang Kwong-wei has already assumed the post of Pacification Commissioner, although General Fang Sheng-tao, described by many as a despotic authority, still holds office as Chairman of the Fukien Provincial Government.

The General is expected by many to block the success of the reorganisation but Mr. Fan Chih-mo, former Commissioner of Finance, Canton, declared the reorganisation is an optimistic step towards the future of the province. — Reuter.

UNCONSTITUTIONAL DISSOLUTION.

Reichstag Committee
Makes Report.

Berlin, To-day.
The recent dissolution of the Reichstag is in conflict with the spirit of the Constitution, declares a motion adopted by the Reichstag Committee enquiring into events leading up to dissolution. But it did not vote on the principal point of the dispute between the Government and Opposition, namely, the legality of a vote of non-confidence.
The Committee, despite Chancellor von Papen's denial, expressed the conviction that the Government was determined to dissolve the Reichstag before the vote of censure could be taken.
The Government intends to ignore the committee's findings, it is understood. — Reuter.

VON PAPEN CRITICISES HERRIOT

Disarmament Brought
No Nearer.

NO GRATITUDE DUE.

Berlin, To-day.
Premier Herriot's Sunday speech does not help further the discussions on Disarmament. It has rendered more difficult any understanding, declared Chancellor von Papen to Reuter.
He added that France wants no understanding. He denied Germany was teaching her children the art of killing. Physical training for her youngsters was solely of a gymnastic nature. Answering M. Herriot's charge of ingratitude, Chancellor von Papen said: "Thanks might have been due for the cancellation of reparations, if the cancellation had been effected a year ago, enabling President Hoover's broad-minded moratorium proposals to have full effect against the world crisis." — Reuter.

Jobs For Amateurs Around The House.

When a flex covering shows signs of wearing at any point, bind it with adhesive tape. Bind each frayed piece separately, as shown at A, well beyond the affected part. If the wire itself appears to be somewhat broken, it is safer to fit a new length of flex.

Sometimes a faulty connection in a lampholder is indicated by a flickering light. Unscrew the outer rings of the lampholder and, with a small screw-driver, tighten the little screws which hold the ends of the flex wire in the porcelain block which you will see inside the holder.

To prepare a new length of flex for fixing to a lampholder, take a sharp penknife and gently cut a ring round the braided covering, about one inch from each end, exposing the rubber-covered wire strands. Bare the ends of these strands, as shown at B, and be careful not to cut the wire itself. Twist the wires to "bunch" them, slip the flex through the hole in the dome of the lampholder, and then thread one bare end through the "eye" of each little terminal. Turn the screws to hold the wire firmly. Arrange the little wood wedges which hold the wire tightly in the top part of the holder, and screw back the other parts.

A new connection to a wall plug can be made in the same way. Unscrew the bottom part of the plug C, and push the ends of the wire through the two holes in the cap. D. Thread the uncovered ends through the holes in the terminals E.E. and tighten up the screws. Screw the part C in place again.

When an electric lamp falls, it is sometimes because a break has occurred in the filament wire, as indicated in diagram F. In many cases, the broken filament can be repaired in a very simple way. Gently shake the bulb until the broken ends G.G. touch each other. If this can be done successfully, replace the lamp in the holder and switch on the current. The two broken ends of the filament will fuse together and the lamp will light up as usual.

DIFFERENT KINDS OF SUNBURN.

Some skins tan when exposed to the sun some burn and blister while others freckle. Before taking a sun bath or exposing yourself to the sun apply a generous coating of cream or lotion or olive to the skin. Remove the surplus and then apply a coating of zinc or talcum powder. It is unwise to suddenly expose the skin to the heat of the sun without some protection. Undoubtedly the sun's rays are very beneficial to the skin, but like every good thing, they should be used in moderation as their application can be overdone.

MENU SUGGESTIONS FOR TO-MORROW.

TIFFIN
Filets of Sole au citron
Summer Stew
Savoury Rice
Banana Custard

DINNER
Jellied Soup
Pigeon aux Olives
Potato Balls—Bamboo Shoots
Rum Omelette

As the summer stew contains potatoes there is no need to serve potatoes again as a supplementary dish, so place the stew, or "ragout" as the French term it, in a border of savoury rice. This is made by adding butter, salt and pepper, and equal quantities of chopped onion and parsley to cooked rice. The whole is then mixed well, turning constantly to prevent burning.

When serving banana custard there is no need for it to be the plain and homely dish so well known in the nursery. Serve it in tall glasses topped with strawberry jam or sprinkled plentifully with chopped nuts. Or pile a meringue of stiffly whipped and sweetened egg white on top and sprinkle with desiccated coconut. Such touches as these redeem the simplest food from monotony.

Summer Stew.
Cut 2 lbs of neck of mutton into neat chops, put in a stewpan with enough stock or water to cover; bring to the boil, removing scum. Choose 6 young small potatoes, carrots, turnips and button onions of uniform size. Add salt, pepper and herbs. Cook till all ingredients are tender, then serve with meat in centre and the vegetables piled round.

Jellied Soup.
Cut 2 calves' feet into pieces each and boil gently in 5 pints of water for 6 hours, skimming, repeatedly. Strain and reduce stock (by further boiling) to a quart. Cool and remove every particle of grease. Turn this jellied stock into a pan, add the rinds of 2 lemons, the juice of 2 lemons, a little sherry, the whipped whites and crushed shells of 2 eggs, a little cinnamon and 4 cloves, and some herbs. Whisk until boiling, draw aside and simmer for 10 minutes. Strain through a close cloth, turn into moulds and when firm, serve.

Pigeons With Olives.
Divide 2 pigeons into quarters and fry brown in butter or fat. Have ready 1/2 pint of good brown sauce in a stewpan, put the pigeons in, cover closely and cook gently for 40 minutes. Braise some French olives in a little stock and serve the pigeons in a hot dish with the sauce strained over the olives grouped at the base.

TURBAN IS LIKELY WINTER MODE.

Cornered Themes Can Be Popular.

The Winter successes will undoubtedly be the tiny turbans, or the modern versions of bicorne, tricorn, or even four-cornered themes, which reveal the shape of the head almost as fully as the hats first mentioned. Le Monnier, for example, has a "marquis" in violet velvet, with the soft up-turned brim fastened back on the round crown with four symmetrically spaced buttons. Mado has a charming little turban like a three-cornered beret, with a fringed rosette trimming under the front point.

Centre-front trimmings, usually upstanding, or outstanding butterfly bows, are typical of Mado, who has made some of the most successful chapeaux of these showings. Her draped two-coloured velvet turbans with the high, parky ends or bows are going well here.

High bow trimmings are a favourite method of giving dash and variety to the low round crowns and have the advantage of not making them "old." Le Monnier places them, often in pairs, toward the back on the left of her round brimmed turbans. Sany White poses big butterfly bows almost on top of some of her velvet brimmed turbans, so called because they are edged with a fold turned down on one side and up on the other, thus softening a face not in its very first youth.

PROTECTION SECRET FOR WHITE SKIN.

Not Necessary To Take On Tan.

For those who do not wish to acquire the fashionable tan and whose skin is apt to be too dry, nothing is better as a protection against tan and freckles than a lotion made of six ounces of olive oil and 1/4 ounce tincture of benzoin. Another good recipe consists of two ounces of almond oil, two ounces of rosewater, and ten drops of tincture of benzoin. The benzoin will counteract the darkening effect of the oil. Apply it to the neck and face and allow it to absorb for a few minutes, then wipe off the excess oil and apply face powder. Rub the lotion well into the skin of the arms and hands so that they will not appear grubby.

When you come in after having been out in the sun and wind for some time the skin should always be cleansed with cold cream. Apply generously, leave it on the face and neck for a few minutes, then wipe off with a face tissue, or better still with a wet pad of cotton wool that has been squeezed out in which hazel or a good vanishing cream.

COSTLY HOME CORNERS.

Do you know what a nuisance your own particular personality or are they just as uninteresting as a dentist's waiting room? It is not difficult to collect a few things around one to make a comfortable home, yet that essential coziness is lacking because sufficient attention has not been paid to individuality. Most collections should have a few things.

Famous Authors On Collaboration

Knoblock Wanders In Antique Shops

Nichols "Goes Along"

Most of the dramatists I have met have orderly punctual minds—for the reason, no doubt, that playwriting is as firmly set in its own conventions as the creation of sonnets. When, therefore, I found Mr. Edward Knoblock waiting for me on his door-step I looked quickly at my watch. Fortunately I was exactly on time. Nevertheless, I apologised for being late, which seemed the polite way of greeting so charmingly informal a host. Mr. Beverley Nichols was late, although only a minute or so. He arrived in his new car, purchased—as he explained—out of the prospective royalties from "Evensong." As the play is the big success of the London season, the dealer should not have to wait long for his money!

The three of us made our way to the top of the house, where Mr. Knoblock works in a room that is dominated by a magnificent human portrait of Shakespeare, which he told me he had picked up in an out-of-the-way shop for a pound. Underneath was a miniature of Garrick with a lock of the famous actor's hair. "That cost 4s. at Christie's," Mr. Knoblock remarked. "The whole house," said Mr. Nichols, "is full of priceless things for which Knoblock has paid an average of fourpence each! When we were writing 'Evensong' together at Brighton," he continued, "and wanted a break, Knoblock always took me a round of the antique shops."

That led comfortably to the reason for my call. "Collaboration," I began, "how do—?"

Both authors thereupon began to talk at once, and for the next hour I had a perfect example of collaboration.

Finished in Ten Days.
Apparently it was Knoblock's idea. As soon as he read the novel, "Evensong," he saw there was a play in it, and passed on the suggestion to Mr. Beverley Nichols. A collaboration was agreed upon, and they decided to start at once. The following day they left for Mr. Knoblock's house at Brighton, and the scenario was completely worked out. The play was finished at Mr. Beverley Nichols's cottage ten days later. "Really finished," said Mr. Knoblock, "for less than a dozen lines were altered during the production."

It all sounded very easy, and I asked them how the work was actually divided up.

"Of course, there was the advantage," Mr. Knoblock said, "that the chief character was ready-made in Beverley Nichols's excellent novel. Speaking roughly, he worked on the young scenes on the ground floor, and I was upstairs in charge of the older people. He used to rush backwards and forwards to each other during the course of the day, and occasionally met half-way." "Yes, some of the best dialogue was written on the staircase," added Mr. Nichols. "It was really an ideal collaboration, which is as rare as an ideal marriage."

"Did you quarrel very much?" "No," they replied in unison. "We were extraordinarily amenable to each other's criticisms." "Knoblock pointed out that I had a pernicious habit of allowing the characters to ask, 'What do you mean?' whereas I gently pointed out," said Mr. Nichols, "that he had a way of repeating the last words spoken by the previous speaker." "I have been writing plays since I was twelve," Mr. Knoblock continued, "but I admit that I have learned something from this collaboration. Beverley Nichols has taught me the value of terseness in dialogue. On the whole my scenes were on the long side and had to be cut in the finally agreed version, whereas his were, if anything, too brief. As a younger man he has realised that audiences are now quicker. For that reason, and because the lighting system is so much better, they need less explanation. In fact the soliloquy has disappeared, because it is no longer necessary."

Miss Evans's "Irela."

"And what did you learn from Mr. Knoblock?" I asked Mr. Nichols.

"Chiefly how to write plays: In particular—(1) the necessity of making a complete scenario before starting, so that you know before the first word is written what the final exit line will be, and (2) that all action must arise out of character."

"Yes, he now intends to continue writing plays by himself," said Mr. Knoblock with a sigh. "It has been my fate in life to teach my collaborators their business, and then they have gone and taken the cake out of my mouth."

Henry Arthur Jones once said that a play is as good as it is acted, and both authors were anxious to pay their tributes to Miss Edith Evans, whose performance as Irela has been unanimously hailed as one of the greatest pieces of acting of our time. They also acknowledged their gratitude to Mr. Athole Stewart for his fine work as producer.

I asked Mr. Nichols if he would like to reply to the suggestion that Irela represented Melba.

"There is one thing I should like to say. I was never Melba's private secretary, as several newspapers have stated. I am incapable of being anybody's secretary."

I wrote Melba's Autobiography, but in the play, Knoblock and I went to some pains to avoid the suggestion that Irela was intended for any individual. The record used is not one of Melba's. It is from Puccini's "Manon," in which Melba never sang. Another thing: great artists never talk about their art. Off the stage they usually tell funny stories and indulge in absurd practical jokes."

"That is true," added Mr. Knoblock, "anyhow, of Sara Bernhardt, Caruso, Lucien Guilty, and the other famous people I have known. Sara was certainly very much like Irela in 'Evensong.'"

Mr. Knoblock as Dramatist.

Mr. Knoblock is one of the most experienced dramatists living. He has adapted plays from the German and French, and written dozens of plays himself and in collaboration. "I wrote twenty-seven before I had one accepted," he said. "At any rate, I now know how to get characters on and off the stage. I have worked with delightful people. Arnold Bennett suggested that we should become collaborators, and he proposed 'Don Juan,' but he eventually wrote it himself. I then suggested an idea which I had had for years, and the result was 'Evensong,' which we finished in three weeks."

Kismet took me six months to write, for every phrase I used was based on some reference in Eastern literature, from the 'Arabian Nights' to the 'Sikh Gospels.' I once completed an adaptation of Meville's 'Black Beauty' for a movie, but it was never made. I am likely to be 'Magnolia Street' as the title of my next play."

"DEVIL'S LOTTERY"—KING'S THEATRE.

An English Peer studies the reactions of Derby sweepstake winners in "Devil's Lottery," the Fox melodrama now showing at the King's Theatre, with Elissa Landi, Paul Cavanagh and Victor McLaglen in the principal roles. The film is original and quite entertaining, the supporting cast of players including Alexander Kirkland, Halliwell Hobbes, Beryl Mercer, Herbert Mundin, Ralph Morgan and Barbara Weeks.

Miss Landi portrays with distinction the role of a woman of questionable reputation, Cavanagh is seen as her crooked suave lover, McLaglen is a prize fighter, while Beryl Mercer portrays his Cockney mother, creditably. They are all invited to be the guests of an English Peer publisher, excellently furnished by Halliwell Hobbes. As the picture moves, things begin to happen in a most amazing and entertaining way, culminating in a happy ending.

Miss Landi, who appeared in "Always Goodbye," "Body and Soul" with Charles Farrell, is admirably suited to her role, and looks beautiful.

"TARZAN, THE APE MAN"—QUEEN'S THEATRE.

It falls to the lot of the film producer to try and please everybody and, failing that, to produce pictures which will appeal to almost everybody. Tarzan, the Ape Man, is a picture which falls within the latter classification. It is a wonderfully produced picture which might have made almost as good a silent film as it does a talkie because there is so much that is really thrilling that the absence of sound would not be noticed. However, there is no denying that sound effects and speech do add to the entertainment value of this Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture.

Even those who dislike the far-fetched themes of Edgar Rice Burroughs will find the picture interesting because the jungle scenes are good and some of the wild animal acts really amazing. See Johnny Weissmuller, the world's champion swimmer, wrestle with real live lions and leopards, swim rivers infested with crocodiles, climb upon the backs of elephants and swing dizzily from tree to tree and you will wonder how it is all done. Those who want to know how Tarzan cut his hair and shaved his chin and how he escapes from the clutches of a ferocious lion, which has apparently chewed up his shoulder, without displaying a scratch upon his beautifully proportioned body, must write him a letter.

The picture gives a genuine thrill and the experience of Mr. W. S. Van Dyke, who directed Trader Horn, is reflected in the excellent made scenes of typically African jungle. The cast includes Neil Hamilton and C. Aubrey Smith as the intrepid ivory hunters, and Maureen O'Sullivan as the girl who eventually decides to share Tarzan's wild life. Weissmuller makes a very convincing Tarzan and throughout the picture he gives evidence of his amazing athletic prowess.

The picture is now showing at the Queen's Theatre.

MAIL REVIEW

"PERSONAL MAID"—MAJESTIC THEATRE.

The spectacular clever direction of Mr. Monta Bell, makes "Personal Maid," now showing at the Majestic Theatre, entertainment of a fairly high standard. The story is of the modern Cinderella type, and Nancy Carroll and Gene Raymond appear in the leading roles. Pat O'Brien is also in the cast.

"BEYOND VICTORY"—TAIPEI THEATRE.

A stirring tale is told in Pathe's talking production, "Beyond Victory," the central attraction of the Taipei Theatre. Bill Boyd and Marian Shilling have the leading roles.

MAIL REVIEW

"AROUND THE WORLD IN 80 MINUTES"—CENTRAL THEATRE.

The interesting travelogue "Around the World in Eighty Minutes," produced by Douglas Fairbanks, senior, is attracting large crowds at the Central Theatre where it is having its second release. Excellent scenery plus humorous dialogue make this production extremely interesting, and one that should not be missed.

MAIL REVIEW

"ALL QUIET"—ORIENTAL THEATRE.

Universal's greatest triumph "All Quiet On The Western Front" is the current attraction at the Oriental Theatre. Although the film has been released on many occasions locally, it is worth seeing more than once. The film is an epic of the war, and is presented with great realism.

Louis Wolheim and Lewis Ayres do good work in this film. Recommended!

"NO LADY"—GARDEN THEATRE.

Lupino Lane has boundless opportunities to exploit his highly popular gifts of comedy and acrobatics, in "No Lady," Britain's first big thrill-comedy which opens at the Garden Theatre to-day.

In addition to Lane's great performance the story itself, is refreshingly British, with breezy Blackpool backgrounds and settings.

A series of Australian films, which will give Hong Kong audiences its chance of learning something about Australia, are to be shown in Hong Kong shortly. The first of the series is entitled "Australia Pays," and depicts her gold mines which have been the source of great wealth. From Kalgoorlie, in the west to Charters Towers in Queensland, gold has been found at frequent intervals.

The six pictures which comprise the series, provide much education, entertainment and artistry. Worth while seeing!

"Splinters In The Navy."

The story of life on a battleship as told in "Splinters in the Navy" is utterly irresponsible, but is great fun, and what is more, it is wholesome. The "story" speedily gets lost in a series of hilarious incidents culminating when the weird A. B. hero, Joe Crabbs (Sydney Howard), and his pal, Bill Nivvyn, go ashore at Plymouth, and pergo ashore at Plymouth, and pergo ashore at Plymouth.

"Sinners In The Sun."

Carole Lombard, blonde leading woman of "No One Man," was signed to a new Paramount screen contract recently. Her good fortune was immediately followed by assignment to the leading feminine role in "Sinners in the Sun" which comes to the King's Theatre on Thursday night. Co-starring with Miss Lombard is Chester Morris, star of "Corsair."

Within the space of just two years, the former Mack Sennett starlet has become established as one of the leading dramatic actresses on the screen. Already Paramount has lined up a series of stellar roles, the next of which will be in "Through the Window," in which she will appear with Morris and Regis Toomey.

Germany.

The crisis in Germany was more than one of a struggle between the new Reichstag and the Cabinet appointed by the President, or than the economic emergency of the same sort with which other countries are familiar. Fundamentally, it arose from the need to restore respect for authority, and the determination of the Conservative element that the more or less open rebellion against the law, of Hitlerites and Communists alike, shall be put down. This Conservative element is far stronger than the elections might suggest, and the Hitler vote included that of many sections of the German people, mainly Nationalist, and therefore acknowledging the tradition of respect for authority, but temporarily inflamed against the Communists. The exhaustion and vicissitudes of the German people since the war provided a favourable hunting-ground for Communist agents, and latterly the supine attitude of the Prussian State Government (finally deposed by Presidential decree) provided the Communists with new opportunities for undermining authority. It was the progress of this destructive campaign which gave a new access of strength to the Fascist movement under Hitler. The Hitlerites had this just excuse for their campaign, that Constitutional authority seemed to be abdicating its responsibility, and the abuses committed against it were becoming intolerable. It is clear now that the Bruening Cabinet fell because it could not re-establish that authority. The creation virtually of a dictatorship with the appointment of the von Papen Cabinet was, in accordance, in a measure, with the popular instinct which had rallied to Hitler's appeal. The new Reichstag was, deemed to remain impotent under the violent hostility between Communist and Hitlerite extremists, and it was plain, while the lawless sections were still in process of that, that the Reichstag could not perform its duty for some time.

phased to the nation the supreme need suavely enough, but with unmistakable firmness. The "Times" drew attention to the keynote of it as "an exhortation to the spirit of duty and respect for authority, the restoration of which to German public life is one of the most laudable aims of the present Government." There is little division of aim really between the Hitler movement and the Government; but it would seem that Hitler's impassioned appeals to his followers to save Germany, to enforce law and authority by their own decree, if established authority will not do so, have committed him and his colleagues to a point from which they cannot easily back down. The traditional spirit of the German people, their love of order and discipline and their devotion to productive activity are on the side of the Government. The Chancellor has announced a bold scheme for revival of commercial industry, the re-issue to industrial taxpayers, as a loan over a series of years, of $75,000,000 worth of certain taxes, together with a grant of a further $35,000,000 to assist re-employment of idle hands. It may have "dubious aspects," as some critics declare, but the Berlin Bourse greeted the plan with satisfaction, doubtless partly because it is another sign that the Government means to act with determination. The real strength of the Government's authority lies not with von Papen, the Chancellor, or with the ageing Hindenburg (fabulous though his reputation is), but with the Minister for Defence, General von Schleicher. Von Schleicher is not merely an experienced soldier. He is acknowledged by all current European commentators to be an accomplished diplomat and of great political ability. He created and administered with notable tact a special post during the war that of liaison between the quartermaster's branch of the army and civilian sources of supply. Upon the collapse of Germany in 1918 it was he who induced the Socialist Cabinet of Ebert to adopt the advice of the Army Command for restoration of order. Though mostly behind the scenes, he has been one of those who held Germany together through every internal crisis since the armistice, especially during the occupation of the Ruhr in 1924. The Reichswehr, the military forces upon which the Government's authority may shortly depend, has been faithfully under his hand during the last year, and he has been one of the main pillars of the Government's authority.

News in Brief.

A Whist drive in aid of the M.C.L. will be held at the Police Recreation Club, Happy Valley at 8.30 p.m. to-morrow. Admission is $1.

An unknown Chinese man, about 30, was found by the Police yesterday hanging by a strap to a bar over the doorway of a building under construction in Fah Yuen Street.

The last of the three Chinese who were charged with the murder of Ho Gin-shan, a deck passenger on the s.s. Tjisadane, was discharged by Mr. Fraser at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday because of lack of evidence.

The third bag snatching case in a shop, within a week, was perpetrated yesterday afternoon by Miss Turnbull who lost her hand-bag in Gray's Yellow Lantern shop. The bag was snatched from her hand by a man.

Taking a lenient view, Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones at the Central Police Court yesterday fined a Treasury messenger $25 and further ordered him to be bound over on security of $100, for receiving a Leica camera belonging to Mr. E. L. Falconer, a retired Civil Servant.

The Annual General Meeting of the Hong Kong St. Andrew's Society will be held in the Board Room Messrs. Waterfront Searchers "Squeeze" Revealed.

Cheung Kwong, a constable, was sentenced to three months' hard labour by Mr. Wynne-Jones in the Central Police Court yesterday, charged on three counts of obtaining sums of money totalling $97, from different boarding houses as gratuities in lieu of searching immigrants' luggage.

Mr. T. Murphy, A.S.P., prosecuting, said the present case had revealed the existence of an organisation engineered by the waterfront searchers. The defendant was arrested last Thursday just as he emerged from a boarding house.

Some Reflections On Ottawa

Treating Russia Like An Ally

BRITAIN VICTORIOUS

"The Ottawa Conference has melted away in a series of provisional agreements between the Mother Country and her Dominions for the freer exchange of one another's products, which, excellent and mutually beneficial as they are, must take some time before they are put in practice," writes A. A. B. in the Evening Standard. No serious person really expected to revolutionise the commercial system of the British Commonwealth in a few weeks, or months, however enthusiasts, like men straitening a warped plank, may have, for tactical purposes, employed language leaning too far in the opposite direction. The negotiations have been conducted, not in the stratosphere of Professor Picard, but in the atmosphere of Canada, and, considering that fact, I think it is wonderful that so much expedition and cool temper were displayed.

I have been in most parts of the tropics; but not in Singapore, or Ceylon, or Java have I suffered anything like the heat which I endured in Toronto and Ottawa in this very month of August in the year before the war. In Toronto I lay in pyjamas gasping under electric fans. I shall never forget being invited by my host to sit down in the middle of the day to hot roast beef and Yorkshire pudding, and when I begged for a raw egg and a sandwich he seemed astonished, not to say offended.

Keeping Cool.

It speaks volumes for the preparatory work done by the departments on both sides that schedules and tariff tables were not hurled across the tables—perhaps they were. Dante's Inferno must have been a refrigerating chamber compared with Parliament House. One cold-shoulder the delegates managed to preserve, to my delight—no one appears to have taken any notice of the representatives of the egregious de Valera; the delegates from a State who refuse the Oath of Allegiance to King George, and who had the impudence to thrust themselves into an assembly whose common bond was loyalty, being shown plainly that they were out of place.

It was, I thought, perplexing, and a little indecorous, that the main fight against dumping of slave-produced timber and wheat from Russia should have been put up by Mr. Bennett instead of by Mr. Baldwin's very awkward position towards the Prime Minister. Mr. MacDonald was the author of two commercial treaties with the Soviets; one, in 1924, which the indignation of the British people repudiated, when they ejected Mr. MacDonald from office. And the other, which Mr. MacDonald concluded with Stalin and his gang of slave drivers in 1926, when a parliamentary majority made him independent of British public opinion. That treaty, like all treaties of trade and commerce with foreign countries, contains presumably a most-favoured-nation clause, which provides that the greatest concessions or advantages we may give to any other nation must also be given to that nation; and which requires six months' notice or denunciation for its termination. The most favoured nation, however, does not mean any community within the British Empire.

Treating Russia Like An Ally. Fancy giving the same terms to Argentina or our oldest ally, Portugal as to the ruffianly scoundrels who have murdered not only the near relatives of our King but hundreds of thousands of land-owning British and their whole middle class. Mr. Bennett was only concerned about his lumber trade and his farmers. But has the British Prime Minister or Mr. Baldwin nothing to say about the morality of trafficking with these blackguards who are the sworn enemies of the British Empire?

Triumph. How glad the delegates and their attendant cohort of experts and typists must have been to escape to the seaports and get aboard their various luggers. Great Britain has now emerged victorious from the greatest war of all time. She has shouldered and converted a war debt which our grandfathers could not even have counted. We have demonstrated to the world that the British Commonwealth is inseparably bound together by common ties of kinship and commerce, and are we to be cheated and harassed by de Valera? We have dealt with the Clan-na-Gael before, and will, if necessary, deal with it again.

Are we now to abandon India to the instigation of dreamy idealists or under the advice of complacent and sand-blind pedants like Lord Lothian and Mr. Caccia? India, into which for two centuries we have poured our treasure and on whose safety and good government we have spent the lives of our greatest soldiers and administrators? Never, never, never!

ROTARY WANTS END OF CHINA WAR

Mr. T. B. Wilson Back From Seattle.

Mr. T. B. Wilson, who recently returned from a visit to Seattle, where he represented the Hong Kong Rotary Club at the International Convention of Rotary Clubs, gave a very interesting address to local Rotarians yesterday on the subject being "Impressions of the Seattle Convention." Mr. Wilson said the delegates at the convention were very keen to see that the world was not plunged into another world war, and that the peace of the world was maintained.

MAURICE TATE MAY GO ON TOUR.

Decision To Be Made On October 10.

ENGLISH AND AUSTRALIAN PROBLEMS.

London, Yesterday. Maurice Tate may be able to make the tour of Australia this winter. He has now fully recovered from his nervous breakdown and pronounces himself fit, expressing the hope that he will be allowed to make the trip. It is understood that a decision will be made at a special meeting of the M.C.C. on October 10.—Reuter.

MAURICE TATE

Sussex and All-England.

Tate was a victim of a nervous breakdown soon after the news of K. S. Duleep Singh's withdrawal from the team on account of ill-health. Ernest Tyldesley was offered the vacancy caused by the Indian's withdrawal, but it is understood that he was unable to go, and the vacancy was given to Paynter, another Lancashire batsman.

R. W. V. Robins, the Middlesex amateur, was originally selected, but was forced to decline on account of domestic reasons. His place was taken by Verity, the Yorkshire player.

Australia, however, has her own troubles. Don Bradman's attitude causing anxiety. The Australian Board of Control has decreed that no player, unless employed solely in journalism, will be allowed to write contribute or comment on first-class matches during the 1932-3 season. Bradman has signed a contract to write newspaper articles and intends to carry it out in spite of the Board of Control.

NEW CHINA RECORD FOR 100 YARDS BACK STROKE

OHLWEIN IMPROVES OWN TIME.

Tientsin, September 18.

Under the auspices of the Tientsin Swimming Association Dr. O. Ohlwein, at the Tientsin Country Club swimming pool this morning, broke his own all-China backstroke swimming record for 100 yards in 57.7/10 seconds. His previous record established during the Shanghai-Tientsin Interport contest, was 70 seconds.

The time was taken by a number of officers of the Association and will be officially claimed as a record.

The Colony Swimming Championships

L. Roza-Pereira's Chance For The "Treble"

GITTINS AND DONN HANDICAPPED

TEN HEATS TO OPEN 1932 MEETING THIS AFTERNOON.

Ten interesting heats in the Colony Swimming Championships will be decided at the V.R.C. this evening at 5.30 p.m.

The championships this year have attracted 70 entries, and there is every reason to believe that competition will be keener than that experienced in former years. The V.R.C., Y.M.C.A., South China, Chinese Athletic, Fukien, the Borderers and the Argyls are amongst the leading organisations which are lending support to the programme of ten events.

L. Roza-Pereira, who gave Hong Kong their victory in the Triangular Interport in Shanghai last year, looks to be the only competitor with a chance of bringing off the "double," and he has an excellent chance of winning the Half Mile in addition to the 220 and 440 Yards. His experiment of a shorter stroke may stand him in good stead over the two shorter distances, but he will have to use all he knows to beat W. T. Campbell over the Half Mile.

S. V. Gittins, a favourite for the 100 Yards Free Style, has been handicapped by an attack of tonsillitis and later by influenza, but he showed that he was still fit by annexing the 100-Metres (Past Students) in 1 min. 10.2/5 secs. at the Varsity Meeting on Saturday night. He will, however, have to do better than this if he is to stave off the challenge of W. Lawrence.

A. G. Donn is suffering from water on the knee at the moment, otherwise the Y.M.C.A. might have had a likely contender for the title. The dual between Roza-Pereira and Campbell in the Quarter Mile should not produce such an exciting struggle as that in the Half Mile, as the Borderer will find the distance just a little too short for him. Roza Pereira beat Campbell by a comfortable margin in the Open 400-Metres at the Varsity Meeting on Saturday, clocking 5 mins. 48.2/5 secs. It is surprising that Chan Kee-chung, who came third in that event, has not entered.

V.R.C. FOR RELAY.

On present form H. M. Remedios should win the 100 Yards Breast Stroke comfortably, though J. Walte of the Devonshire is considered a "dark horse" for this event.

With the probable absence of Donn from the "Y" relay team the final should witness the V.R.C. in opposition to the Chinese Athletic, with the Portuguese side favourites for the title.

The High Dive should provide a thrilling struggle between E. da Roza and E. F. Selk. On present form there is little to choose between them, though the V.R.C. representative is expected to triumph. The Long Plunge should give S. H. Garrod his first Colony title. In the encounter between the Y.M.C.A. and the Shamen Swimming Club Garrod reached 63 1/2 ft. Throwing the Polo Ball has attracted a large entry and the Y.M.C.A. will again have two strong challengers, W. F. Kerr and F. Webb being possible winners. Against Shamen Kerr reached 69 ft.

Miss Ena Allen should retain her Colony title in the 100 Yards Free Style for ladies, though Miss

Yeung Sau-king will prove a formidable opponent.

TO-DAY'S HEATS.

The following are the heats down for decision this evening at 5.30 p.m.:

100 Yards (Three Heats)

Entries—W. F. Jameson (Argyll & Sutherland Highlanders), S. V. Gittins (V.R.C.), Chan Fook-sang (Fukien Club), Shek Nam-pui (Fukien Club), Kwok Chun-hang (South China), W. Lawrence (V.R.C.), A. G. Donn (Y.M.C.A.), E. B. da Roza (V.R.C.), Lau Po-hee (Chinese A.A.).

100 Yards Boys' (Three Heats)

Entries—Lionel Osmond, George Souza, J. de Souza, John Ursell, Kwok Chu-shun, Chan Ping-hung, Mak Wai-ming, Lau Ping-pai, Chan Kai-hun.

100 Yards Breast Stroke

(Two Heats)

Entries—J. Walte (H.M.S. Devonshire), W. Trevett (South Wales Borderers), H. M. Remedios (V.R.C.), M. M. de V. Soares (V.R.C.), Kwok Chun-hang (South China), Wong Sun-man (South China), G. H. Fowler (Y.M.C.A.).

Relay Race (Two Heats)

Entries—South China Athletic Association; Victoria Recreation Club, Y.M.C.A., and Chinese Athletic Association.

Noronha Gives Recreio Win In Their First Game

Making the best of a splendid opportunity in the second half, J. E. Noronha gave the Club de Recreio victory by a goal to nil over the Y.M.C.A. 1st XI at King's Park yesterday afternoon, in a friendly hockey match.

The Recreio, who have yet to cultivate fast play, were very sound in defence, while their forwards showed good understanding.

The Y's combination was weak, especially in the forward line. In defence, E. O. Murphy was perhaps the best, using his reverse stick tactics to advantage. H. Sommers, who usually plays in defence, was completely out of place at centre-forward.

The Y's were without the services of Murphy, while the Recreio were without Botelho, in the early stage of the first half which was productive of neat passing movements on the part of the Recreio forwards. Offside, however, prevented many of their fine movements from materialising.

T. J. Price worked hard in the Y's forward line, but the line failed to get going. Goncalves, in the Recreio defence, played a brilliant game. He is a player who will make good progress if he continues to show the improvement he has shown in the last year.

In the second half the exchanges were fast and of an even nature, but the Recreio's attack was more effective. The Y's were without the services of Murphy, while the Recreio were without Botelho, in the early stage of the first half which was productive of neat passing movements on the part of the Recreio forwards. Offside, however, prevented many of their fine movements from materialising.

MR. R. H. CHARLES IN MOTOR SMASH.

Collides With Heavy Commercial Car.

Mr. R. H. Charles, manager of the Roxor Advertising Company, and a well-known local jockey, was involved in a motor accident in the city yesterday afternoon, but, fortunately, he suffered little or no injury.

At about 4 p.m., Mr. Charles was driving his car along Queen's Road East when a motor lorry, travelling in front of him, suddenly stopped. Mr. Charles's car ran into the rear of the heavier vehicle, causing some damage.

A Chinese woman and her two daughters suffered injuries when a motor lorry suddenly skidded and mounted the footpath in Pokfulam Road near Second Street yesterday morning. The woman, Chan Kie-fing (25) of 111, Second Street, had a severe arm laceration and her two daughters, aged 10 and 12, were slightly injured.

The following will represent the Y.M.C.A. against the Chinese Athletic Association in the Triangular Interport contest in Shanghai on October 10:—W. Lawrence, A. G. Donn, E. B. da Roza, and Lau Po-hee.

HONG KONG A CENTRE FOR PACIFIC ZONE

L.T.A. GROUND PROBLEM BECOMES ACUTE

INDIFFERENCE OF AFFILIATED CLUBS

THERE IS EVERY PROSPECT OF A PACIFIC ZONE OF THE DAVIS CUP BEING INAUGURATED IN THE NEAR FUTURE, AND THE HONG KONG LAWN TENNIS ASSOCIATION IS STILL WITHOUT A GROUND OF ITS OWN! THAT IS THE UNFORTUNATE SITUATION AT THE MOMENT.

The new Zone would include Japan, China, the Philippines, Siam, Indo-China, Java, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and India. Situated as Hong Kong is with regard to these countries there is no reason why the Colony should not be given one or two of the preliminary rounds and perhaps even the Final. To accomplish this ambitious scheme, however, the L.T.A. must needs have a ground of their own.

Mr. C. P. F. James, the Hon. Secretary of the L.T.A., stated in an interview that the proposed plan for the laying out of a ground adjoining the Marina ground in Kowloon had had to be abandoned on account of the very poor support afforded by the affiliated clubs. All hopes, have not been banished, however, as the year's lease on the ground is open until next April.

The piece of ground is 260 feet by 160 feet, allowing for six courts with room for changing the courts around. The total expenditure of the project, which included a small clubhouse and stands, was estimated at $15,000. Mr. James said, however, that the financial side of the project had caused most anxiety, the affiliated clubs adopting such an indifferent attitude. "We could easily raise $15,000 from among three or four tennis enthusiasts, but we would rather the affiliated clubs lent their support than have three or four men with controlling interests," said Mr. James.

"Should the Pacific Zone materialise the affiliated clubs will then bemoan the L.T.A.'s lack of grounds, but it will be too late then." "If the L.T.A. is unable to secure a ground of its own, then we shall have to adopt Shanghai methods, and endeavour to reserve two courts for the use of the L.T.A. This is what the Shanghai L.T.A. do, the French Club supplying the required courts." Asked which Club would probably be approached, Mr. James smilingly said, "We shall have to wait and see how the Interport against Shanghai goes off at the K.C.C."

E. D. Andrews, the famous British International lawn tennis player, in a brief speech at a dinner given in his honour by the Executive Committee of the L.T.A. recently, urged the local body to secure a ground of its own, as no organisation could hope to flourish without the required facilities.

Andrews went on to speak of the prospects of a Pacific Zone being formed, stating that it was his opinion that the innovation would be brought about by the financial depression existing at the present time. "Travelling expenses are now very high, and the smaller countries would appreciate any decrease in the fares."

In view of Andrews' opinion a letter from Governor-General Dwight Davis, Commissioner of the Davis Cup, to Francisco Aragon, the Philippines No. 1 ranking player, proves of interest. The letter has been forwarded to the Philippines L.T.A. and that organisation will now endeavour to secure a ground of its own. "Sincerely yours, Dwight F. Davis."

INSPIRED SUTCLIFFE

Playing at Scarborough, for Yorkshire against Essex, Sutcliffe in his 184 made his last 94 in 40 minutes.

Brown, for Surrey, against Middlesex made his first 100 in 95 minutes and 212 in 185 minutes. Sutcliffe at one time scored 82 in 20 minutes.

At one point four following overs from K. Faries, the Cambridge fast bowler, yielded 75 runs.

In all six consecutive overs bowled by Faries, O'Connor and Nichols produced 102 runs in 20 minutes.

Sutcliffe, during the spell, held his own score at 100 in 137 1/2 minutes. Sutcliffe's batting was a model of concentration and his bowling was a study in efficiency.

DETAINED BRITISH YACHT.

Owner's Explanation.

Squadron-Leader S. G. Winfield-Smith, the owner of the yacht Strathpey, which is detained at Zeebrugge on the allegation that she had on board about 4,000 gallons of undeclared alcohol, has been questioned at great length by the chief of the Inquiry-Department of the Ministry of Finance. The questions chiefly related to the destination of the alcohol.

With Squadron-Leader Winfield-Smith were a lawyer who had come specially from London and the journalist who was on board the yacht when she was searched. The owner stated that the breach of the Belgian law regarding the declaration of alcohol was due to the illness of the captain. As to the destination of the cargo, he gave no definite reply.

It was considered, however, that his explanations were sincere, and there was no intention to land cargo fraudulently in Belgium.

HONG KONG JOCKEY'S SUSPENSION

OFFICIAL EXPLAINS REASON FOR RETICENCE

CORRESPONDENTS CRITICISE METHODS

Following the disqualification by the Hong Kong Jockey Club on Monday of Champagne Bay, winner of the last race on Saturday at Happy Valley, a further sensation has been caused in local racing circles by the suspension of Champagne Bay's jockey and part owner, Mr. L. Reidy, for the period of one year.

Jockey Club officials confirmed the suspension but declined to disclose the reason. In an interview with the China Mail, Mr. M. T. Johnson, steward of the Jockey Club, explained the differences in dealing with riders in Hong Kong with other places where the jockeys are professionals.

Two newspaper correspondents call for publicity on the matter, one alleging that Mr. Reidy's suspension followed his free use of the whip during the close finish of the race.

"I can issue no official statement," said Mr. Johnson, seen by a China Mail reporter regarding the suspension from riding of Mr. L. Reidy, the well-known local jockey.

Mr. Johnson pointed out that owing to the local jockeys being amateurs their position regarding the infringement of rules was somewhat different when compared with the professional jockeys in other countries. The infringements of the riding rules however, were treated just as drastically here as in other parts of the world, but he added, he was uncertain as to what steps the Stewards could take in the matters of publicity in such matters. There was no wish on the part of the Jockey Club to hush such matters up, but on the other hand they did not wish to be unduly harsh with riders.

Mr. Johnson said that he would bring the question regarding the publishing of statements after offences before the next meeting of the Jockey Club.

In concluding Mr. Johnson said that the Stewards took every measure to keep the sport clean, and infringements of the rules were sternly dealt with.

PUBLIC WANT TO KNOW.

[The Editor, "China Mail"]
Sir,—Through the courtesy of your columns I would like to enquire why such deep secrecy surrounds the suspension of Mr. L. Reidy, the aftermath of a very unpleasant riding incident at last Saturday's Race Meeting. Surely the public, thousands of whom pay money to witness the sport and to gamble, are entitled to some explanation for the action taken by the Stewards of the Club. To say the least of it, the "hush, hush" attitude that has been adopted is eminently undesirable, and is not a measure likely to improve the standard of the Sport of King's.

"CLEAN SPORT"

Hong Kong, September 28.
"DOES AMATEUR RIDING EXIST?"

[To the Editor, "China Mail"]

Sir,—Does Amateur Riding still exist in the Colony? Is the question I am prompted to ask as the result of the incident which occurred in the Junk Bay Handicap during the Race Meeting on Saturday. That a jockey should come into the Jockey's Room after a race with his arm displaying clearly the weals caused by another jockey's whip rather suggests that Amateur Riding is a thing of the past.

The incident has been hushed up as usual by the Stewards of the Jockey Club thus following an old tradition. Only a person in the know, as we call it, is in possession of the true facts.

The South China A.A. Sweepstake was decided on this race and a difference of $79,002 separated the winning horse from the second. From the commencement of the race, it could clearly be seen that it was going to be a thrilling struggle between Wonderful Stag and Champagne Bay. Coming into the back-straight the Stag was on the rails with a slight advantage. Then, however, events moved rapidly and the free use of a whip brought Champagne Bay home by a head to win the first prize of $109,882 for the fortunate holder of the winning ticket in the S.O.A.A. sweep. Wonderful Stag, which would have almost certainly won the race, could only give his ticket-holder a modest return of $30,880.

In the interests of the local Turf such methods should be dealt with in the most drastic manner. The rider, I understand, has been suspended for a year, which I consider, under the status of an amateur rider, a very lenient sentence. Yours, etc.,

"ECLIPSE."

Hong Kong, September 28.

LEAGUE SECRETARY RESIGNS.

Sir Eric Drummond has been Secretary-General of the League since its formation and was mentioned by name in the Versailles Treaty in connection with the post.

He previously had a distinguished career in the British Diplomatic Service. He expressed a desire to retire from the Secretary-Generalship some time ago but was persuaded to postpone this until next year.—British Wireless Service.

EUROPEAN FINDS MANGLED BODY ON JUBILEE RD.

Face Crushed With Heavy Rock.

GAGGED WITH A ROPE.

While driving his car in Jubilee Road, Pokfulam District, shortly after six o'clock this morning, Mr. J. Hunter, superintendent, Fittings Department, Hong Kong and China Gas Co., made a gruesome discovery. He found the mangled body of an unknown Chinese lying on the roadside, about one mile from the Kennedy Town Hospital.

He reported immediately to the Police, who on arrival at the scene of the crime, found a pair of scissors blades on the ground near the body, the face of which had been crushed with a heavy rock. A rope was tied tightly round his mouth and to a tree. Identification by ordinary means is impossible.

The man, who had the appearance of a shop fold, was between the age of 30 and 35 years.

POUND AND DOLLAR DECLINE.

Silver Drops Again.

In accordance with a drop of 1/2 in both spot and forward silver, the local dollar declined in value to 1/83d.

Spot silver was quoted at 17-11/16 from 17-13/16 (yesterday's quotation), and silver forward went down to 17-13/16 from 17-15/16 (yesterday's quotation).

The pound has dropped further in value, the exchanges being now quoted at $-G$3.45 1/4 for the London on New York cross rate, a drop of 1/4, and $-G$3.45 1/4 for the New York on London cross rate, a drop of 1/4 since yesterday.

BRILLIANT WEDDING IN KOWLOON.

When the happy couple left the church, officers of the Royal Artillery made an arch of crossed swords. The reception was held at the E.A. Mess, Kowloon.

The Rev. W. W. Walton Rodgers officiated.

Among the large number of friends who attended the ceremony, were His Excellency Major-General I. W. Sandilands, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., General Officer Commanding His Majesty's Forces in China, and a representative gathering of officers from the Royal Artillery, Royal Navy, South Wales Borderers, Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders and the Indian regiments.

At A. H. Musson has played Interport Cricket for Hong Kong on three occasions—in Shanghai in 1928, and in the Colony in 1929 and 1931. He is a fine forcing batsman and an exceptionally useful change bowler.

At Musson is also a splendid golfer having won several of the Colony's leading competitions since his arrival here.
